

SPEAKER | AUTHOR | EDUCATOR

As a first-generation college student-athlete, Musu had to overcome several hurdles on her journey to success on the track, in the classroom, and beyond. Along the way she learned to tap into campus resources and find a community of support. Dr. Musu became an All-American scholar athlete, earned her master's and doctorate, and achieved her big dreams. Through her engaging storytelling, she shares strategies that empower and inspire her audience to unleash their potential.

Dr. Musu has over a decade of experience as a university administrator and advisor, has presented at conferences across the country, and is a premiere education motivational and professional development speaker. Musu's passion is to prepare and inspire students and educators to live authentically and defy their own expectations.
